

Personal Assists in Prayer.

A "United South" at Last!

We have the pleasure of announcing to the world that we have a "United South" at last! The three districts on the South of Holston river, in this country, known as "South America," voted on Tuesday as follows:

Planing, (Union) Baker, (Secession)
Hedges' 102	00
Sayles' 884	00
Swaggerty's 120	00
Total 426	00

All honor to the brave boys of "South America!" They grow braver and truer as troubles gather around them.

Gen. Zollicoffer's Proclamation.

We publish, at the request of Gen. Zollicoffer, his address to the people of East Tennessee, his command embracing this Division of the State. It is the only hope we have, of getting this issue of our paper before the public. The mercenaries of the Confederacy, in charge of the Post office and mails, will probably let the paper pass, in order to circulate this address.

Gen. Pillow's Proclamation.

We have come up with one significant truth in Pillow's recent Proclamation to the People of Missouri. After telling them that he has gone there to their assistance, he adds: "our stay here will be short."

We have been requested to give a prominent place in the Whig to the following notice:

To Stockholders.

Under the directions which have been given, we shall be compelled to bring out on the 20th of the present month all supplies due for stock in the Illinois and Kentucky Railroads. JNO. L. MOSS.

Aug. 1st. Jno. L. Moss & Co.

WAR NEWS.

Latest News.

We copy the following dispatches from our Secession exchanges, and give them as our latest news:

From Missouri.

LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 1.—The quartermaster of Gen. Price's Arkansas brigade has just received this city from the Northwest. He brings advice that a scouting party of twenty-five, belonging to Col. Marshall's regiment, encamped one hundred miles rear now Covington, Mo., and after a sharp conflict routed the enemy with a loss of from six to twenty. The Confederates had four horses killed and two wounded.

Capt. Wilson, from Louisville, says the federals drove the Missourians out of Lexington, Mo., a few days ago, and robed the place. The Missourians killed thirty-six of the invaders and had one man wounded.

W. R. Mizell.

Jefferson City, Aug. 6.—Governor (J.) Gamble has issued a proclamation in宣言, maintaining Folk's programme. In addition he claims that the Confederates must leave Missouri.

Fortress Monroe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Gen. Butler, in a letter to the secretary of war, after saying that the withdrawal of the troops from Fortress Monroe was a mistake, for capturing large numbers of slaves, concluded that if it would put down insurrection; in insurrection, would conclude that used to oppose my arms and take all that property which constituted the wealth of the state, and furnished means by which the war was prosecuted, is as follows: "If in so doing human beings were brought to the enjoyment of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness, no such as objection."

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—In the House to-day, the bill authorizing the President to despatch officers of the army was voted.

The confederate bill was passed by a vote of 55 to 48.

The House adjourned till to-morrow.

In the Senate, the resolutions of the Legislature of Maryland protesting against the usurpations of Lincoln were read and ordered to be printed. A bill supplementing that to further the protection of commerce was presented, also a bill to regulate the coasting trade.

The Senate voted to add the bill to the omnibus bill of the Judiciary Committee, and to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The bill was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The Senate confirmed the following nominations sent in by Lincoln: Major Generals—McClellan, Dix and Banks.

New York, Aug. 5.—The correspondent of the World writes that he believes the southerners have abandoned the idea of crossing the Potowmack, and that they are vigorously concentrating their forces lower down, and establishing a line of defense between Virginia and lower Tennessee. They are certainly sending large numbers from Roanoke, southward, and are increasing the number of their batteries on the river.

Rumors of an Attack.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Says—Fremont has been busy engaged since his arrival, arranging military matters. The troops brought down are all encamped at Bird's Point, Mo., and are to be ready to start to-morrow.

I am told that Jeff Thompson is marching his force on Bird's Point with the intention to make an attack to-morrow in conjunction with Gen. Pillow. We do not place much confidence in the report. A number of the three months' volunteers were paid off and discharged, and are remaining here. Thermometer 94 to 95.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Says—All the principal army regiments were confirmed. Dickens to receive pay as a retainer for one year from date.

A bill to punish certain crimes against the Government passed.

The Senate refused to vote on the bill legalizing Lincoln's acts, and adjourned to-morrow.

The Senate voted to increase the Senate bill increasing pay and a January 1st.

Lincoln approves all bills.

The bill as finally passed allows two-dollar postage in making pay.

Prince Napoleon, reward and the French Minister visited.

Butler has returned to Fortress Monroe. He said no immediate plan would be made.

From Louisville.

Louisville, Aug. 6.—Returns show large Union forces since the congressional election, but the Unionists will undoubtedly have a majority in the Legislature.

Four thousand soldiers attacked a citizen of Jeffersonville. They fired four times, shooting a bystander Dutchman in the leg. The citizens brother to the town, when with bricks they beat two of the soldiers severely, the others having fled towards another boat he had.

From St. Louis.

St. Louis, Aug. 6.—The thermometer stands at 106. Fifteen deaths have occurred from the effects of heat.

Twenty carloads of shell and shot have ended here since Saturday, more than half of which were witnessed them. It is said the Company, the most part, were out of prison, and not the "flower of the youth" in Louisville.

Had these blossoms been in Lincoln's day, our Southern journals would have held up many fair specimens of Northern morality, literature and taste!

Prisoners of War.

A dispatch in the Richmond Whig, dated Washington, July 20th, states that there were, at that date, forty Southern Officers, and twelve Southern Physicians, held as prisoners of war.

The South also has a large number of the Federal troops, prisoners, at Richmond and other points. They may treat us kindly as the Federal army has done.

McClellan liberated one thousand in Western Virginia, at one time, upon parole of honor.

OBITUARY.

Died, in Cooke county, Tenn., July 1st, 1861 M. S. ELIZABETH WEST, a widow of James Weaver, deceased, and daughter of Baldwin and Isabella Herle.

Sister Weaver had been a consistent and worthy member of the M. E. Church for many years, but, notwithstanding her name, had no interest in the Legislature.

Her death was the result of a long illness. Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son, the Hon. of the South, died in the same bed.

Her son